

Software Testing Academy

At the Academy we never rest!

As we progress in our journey to establish a robust Software Testing Academy, during these months we are approaching a crucial milestone: the Piloting Phase. This phase was designed to validate and refine the educational resources and training methodologies developed.

We closed the First Round of Piloting! During this first round of training, we gathered extensive feedback from learners and coaches. Three of the participants involved in the Piloting phase were hired by Amaris! Four other participants were hired by other QA companies!

In the second round, that we will close soon, a unique and exciting element will be introduced: participants from the first round will take on the role of Agile Learning Coaches. This peer-coaching model not only reinforces the learning of the first group but also fosters a collaborative and supportive learning environment.

Amaris to Showcase the Software Testing Academy at VLC Testing Conference

We are thrilled to announce that Amaris will be presenting the Software Testing Academy at VLC Testing held in October 2024, one of the most prestigious and influential software testing events in Spain. Held annually in Valencia, VLC Testing attracts top industry professionals, thought leaders, and innovators who are shaping the future of software quality assurance.

Amaris will showcase our Academy's cutting-edge approach to training the next generation of software testers. The presentation will provide an excellent platform to highlight the Academy's innovative methodologies, share our project's achievements, and engage with experts.

Come meet us at VLC Testing as we contribute to push the boundaries of software testing education!
